SIERRA MADRE A CITY

The election of last Saturday passed off rather quietly, although throughout the day there was plenty of bustle and suppressed excitement, and many conjectures were made as to the result. At no time really was the result on the question of incorporation in doubt. The first few hours of the morning showed that every one was interested in the question at issue, and before noon two-thirds of the total vote had been polled. At five o'clock when the polls closed 99 votes had been cast, out of a possible 104.

The room was crowded while the count went on, and outside a large crowd waited impatiently to hear the result.

The following are the complete returns:

For Trustees.

JOTTINGS HERE AND THERE

Dr. Emma Pullin, of San Luis Obispo, is the guest of Mrs. G. B. Eddie.

The home of W. W. Bayard was cheered by the advent of a baby girl last Friday.

W. F. Hatfield reports the sale of the northwest corner of Baldwin and Grandview to Mrs. Burke, of Los Angeles, who will at once build an eight or ten-room residence.

Mrs. Woodyer is building a residence on Auburn avenue.

H. C. Day and Mr. Ferguson, who have been living in the Hanson place, have moved to the old Pixley house on Central avenue.

Miss Grace Adams, of New York City, is residing with Miss M. C. Brandt, on Mt. Trail avenue.

Improvement work is in progress on the Carter vineyard tract.

A. S. Mead has entered business here, and has opened an office in the building with Roth & Seely. He will handle fuel and deal in real estate.

Fred Copps, who has been here for some weeks, has returned to the mines in the State of Oaxaca, Mexico.

Prof. Seiling's new residence is completed, and will be occupied by the owner and his family this week.

Dr. W. J. Barlow and family have been at their Sierra Madre home during the past week.

Over twenty people from Los Angeles visited Mrs. Borglum's studio last Sunday. Among them were Mrs. Frackleton, the lady so widely known from her discoveries and inventions in pottery and Keramics, Mrs. Frackleton, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Wheeler, whose husband is an officer in the customs service, and Mrs. Foster, president of the Friday Morning Club.

E. W. Hall and wife have come here from Chicago, Ill., and have rented the Underhill building where they will open up a hotel, American and European plan, in the near future.

Leard & Gates, contractors, of Pasadena, have begun work on the residence for C. H. Hoffman on Central avenue. This will add another to the row of handsome residences in that part of town.

We notice that John Roth is out again with the usual smile on his face after another conflict with the grippe.

The annual water meeting will be held in the town hall on Thursday evening, the 14th.

Plaster is going up in the town hall, and it will soon be ready for assemblies again.

Write or phone your news items to the News office.

Order some of Heinze apple butter today from the Sierra Madre Grocer Co.

J. L. Moore of Long Beach has rented the Peterson house on Suffolk avenue.

S. R. G. Twycross is serving as trial juror in Department 4 of the Superior Court.

C. F. Paul of Wheeling, West Va., has rented the McGregor house on Esperanza avenue.

JOTTINGS HERE AND THERE

Mrs. J. J. Stoll, Mrs. Frank Statz, Mrs. Ida Holdridge, Miss Nettie Godfrey and Miss Ida Henderson, all of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, paid a visit to their one time townspeople, O. F. Kirby and family, Tuesday.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Congregational Church gave a delightful social on Tuesday evening. A large number were in attendance, and listened to a good missionary program and enjoyed refreshments.

John A. Thompson visited friends in Ocean Park on Wednesday.

The new organ for the Church of the Ascension is being installed.

Maple Grove Butter, the most delicious, put up in a clean, sanitary package. Sold only by the Sierra Madre Grocer Co.

Evangelist Billings conducted a rousing service in the Congregational Church last Sunday, which was very largely attended. Mr. Billings has labored much among the miners in their camps and is assisting in the Rescue Mission work of Los Angeles. Next Sunday evening he will be here again, accompanied by about a dozen young people from Los Angeles. The topic will be "The Surrendered Life."

W. E. Bechtelheimer has been appointed agent for Adams, Turner & Stevens Co., Undertakers, of Pasadena. All calls answered promptly, and best attendance guaranteed.

The work on the bank building is going along in fine style, and one of these bright mornings we will wake up and see a lot of new business on that corner.

The shingles are on the new school building and the lathing is nearly done, ready for the plaster.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Fields and daughter of Los Angeles were visitors at the home of the editor and wife over Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church will give a tea in the church annex on next Tuesday afternoon.

The ladies of the Congregational Church did a thriving business in coffee and sandwiches Saturday, during the election. It was rumored that they served pie as a side line, but we cannot vouch for it as there was none left when the editor got there.

Unless unforeseen events should delay we expect to have the special edition of the News out with next week's regular. It will contain a complete write-up of Sierra Madre, just the thing to send to your friends in the east or other parts of the state. Send in your order now for extra copies of the supplement.

A. S. Mead made a business trip to Compton Tuesday.

D. L. Sherburne, who lived here nearly twenty years and who is now resident in Los Angeles, was a visitor here Wednesday.

Mrs. Crippen, of Los Angeles, visited Mrs. G. B. Eddie last week.

W. D. Seely spent Wednesday at his Compton ranch.

A. S. Mead has bought lot 6 of the Long Beach Tract, where he will soon build a residence.

Some weeks ago A. R. Hathaway left here for the east, and we were fooled into believing that he had just gone on a visit. But later developments prove that there was method in his going, for last Thursday he came home, but not alone. On January 26 he was married at Arcadia, Kansas, to Miss Nettie Adams.

Tuesday afternoon Geo. Thompson and wife of St. Paul, accompanied by their maid, came out here in their automobile to visit Sierra Madre friends. Coming down Central avenue the sight of new brick walls going up in this quiet little town (we must write it city now) so startled the automobile or the chauffeur, we could not tell which, that the machine took to the ditch and tried to play tag with a telegraph pole. The occupants proceeded on their way unharmed, but automobileless, while the driver stayed behind until the machine could be put in traveling trim again.

One Way to Get Repairs

Mr. Whiting's telephone got out of order. Sometimes it would work and sometimes it wouldn't. It needed attention, and Whiting said so repeatedly, but the company wouldn't do anything for him but send him a bill promptly at the month's end, and the telephone remained in a very unsatisfactory state.

Finally Whiting put his brain to work on the problem of getting his telephone repaired, and the next time he was called up, taking down the receiver he said, mildly:

"Hello."

"Hello," was the reply. "Is this Whiting?"

"No," said he.

"Isn't this No. A-713?"

"No, indeed. It is No. B-872—Mrs. Cora Thompson."

"Oh, excuse me."

Whiting smiled and returned to his work. A minute or two passed, and he was called up by a feminine voice—the proud, haughty voice of the young lady at the exchange.

"No, A-713, isn't it?" she said.

"No, no," said Whiting.

"Isn't this Mr. Whiting?"

"No. It is Harry Smithers."

"What is your number?"

"Why, 1192, of course."

"Oh."

Silence. Then, a minute later, the telephone girl rang again.

"Hello. No. A713? Mr. Whiting?" she said.

"No," Whiting answered in a surprised tone. "This is No. A-413."

"Oh."

Five minutes' pause. Then: "Hello. No. A-713?"

It was a man's voice, the manager's. Whiting, smiling grimly, answered it.

"No. This is the Globe Theatre."

There was an angry mutter over the wire, and half an hour later a foreman and six assistants, armed with all kinds of batteries and tools, invaded Whiting's office. When they left, the telephone's defect had been repaired, and it was, for the first time in six months, in perfect condition. —The Argonaut.

Shorthand Pupils Report W. J. Bryan.

Among the people who went to hear Bryan yesterday were several pupils of the San Bernardino Business College, and while none of them profess as yet to be experts in shorthand, it was another opportunity to make a practical test of the merits of the Lightning Legible Shorthand System, which the school puts forward as one of its strong points, and which is taught in the above college by its author.

The Sun is indebted to the students for its report of the great Nebraskan's speech. While they had to "take it" as they stood in the crowd, they managed to gather a complete report, which appears elsewhere in the Sun this morning. It is incontrovertible evidence that the boys and girls at the business college are getting extraordinary results in the study of shorthand. — San Bernardino Sun, Jan. 30, '07.

The students who reported Mr. Bryan's speech are taking a combined business and shorthand course for the civil service, and had been in school a little over 4 months. Such a feat was probably never equaled with any other system of shorthand. For full particulars about this school, civil service examinations, etc., address San Bernardino Business College, San Bernardino, Cal.

A Great Chestnut.

There is probably no man engaged in the newspaper business in this state who is not acquainted with a man whose excuse for discontinuing his subscription is that he has "has already more papers than he can read." It is only an excuse offered to ease the presumed lacerated condition of the editor's feelings. It has no such effect, for, in the first place an editor never worries over the loss of a subscriber except when he leaves the country without paying up what he owes. But why not be truthful and say to the honest newspaper man just what you feel in your heart? Go into his den and ask him how

EDITORIAL

All hands together. Boost! That's what we want now. We've got the ideal townsite, the finest climate, and now we're incorporated. Nothing stands in the way of Sierra Madre taking her place away in the front rank of California towns.

How's this for February weather? Sit out on the porch in your shirt-sleeves, read the accounts of bitter weather back east and be thankful that you are in California.

Scratch your head and see if you owe the editor anything. M. Olsen asked us the last time we went in for shoe repairs how it was that we wore shoe leather out so fast. It comes from the strenuous work that we have to do, chasing from one end of the town to the other trying to pick up the stray and elusive shekles that we need.

A Pasadena paper has been trying to work up a subscription list here. A reporter has been here gathering up items anywhere from ten days to six weeks old and they have been published as news. Ugh!

We wish to call attention of all our subscribers to the fact that we are prepared to do all kinds of job printing, promptly and right, and at prices that beat the city. There are many among our patrons, resident in Sierra Madre, who are in business in Los Angeles. To such we say: You are interested in Sierra Madre, and want to see it grow. Why not let the News have your printing that is now being done in Los Angeles. We will do it just as well, and as cheap, if not cheaper, and a telephone call will reach us. At present the field for job printing is very limited here, and we wish that you might give us your work.

General expressions of satisfaction at the result of the election were heard from all sides on Saturday evening. Everyone, whatever his likes or dislikes, found something in the result to his liking. All parts of the city seemed well represented, and there seems a promise of all in the city working together for the common good.

It ought to be that now factional differences should be forgotten as largely as possible, and all work for the upbuilding of Sierra Madre. The effort hat led to such a spirited contest at the polls was the outgrowth of a desire to have an equal representation for all, and those who had a hand in the movement are well satisfied with the result of the election. There is not one but what is more than willing to see those who have been opposed in the past represented in the municipal offices. As was said in last week's issue of the News, the proper basis for harmonious work as a municipality is to be found in representation from all who may have taken sides. The result that we have from the election is the best possible for the town, if all parties will accept the result with due regard for the rights of others work for the city's advancement.

One of the first matters for our consideration now that we have donned municipal clothes, is fire protection. In a former issue of the News we called attention to the danger and the need of some means of combating fire. Houses are being built rapidly, and with every new residence the liability of fire increases. Surely we have enough able-bodied men in this town to form a volunteer fire company, and appliances needed for fire fighting could be bought with the money saved by reduced rates of insurance. Who will start the ball a-rolling? Another thing needs looking after (with a club). Our railway service. We have written on this subject till our ink well is pretty near dry, and it is time that the citizens as a whole were making a united protest to the railway company. All the ramshackle cars that no other town will stand for are thrown out our way and we have to shift as best we can. If an accident in the morning delays a car, the schedule is deranged for the rest of the day. No attempt is made to restore it by the simple expedient which used to be in use of running a car out of Los Angeles on schedule time if the regular is late. As it is, a car once off time is thrown further off with every trip, until when night comes no one knows when the car will arrive. Then we need better evening service. Get a Pacific Electric time table and see if you can find another town that is treated in the fashion that we are. They say that this is a new line, but just the same it's a money-maker for H. E. Huntington, and besides it ought to be remembered that the town paid good and well to get the road here.

Now if the board of trustees elect, will permit a humble suggestion. Would it not be a good idea to call a mass meeting to consider the two matters mentioned above, and frame a petition and protest to the railway company? Such matters as these do not need to wait until the board gets ready for business. A meeting can be called unofficially, and they are the men now whom we look to to take the lead. We need to do something and do it now.

There is no more potent factor in shaping the course of events in a town, making for its upbuilding and progress, than a live, up-to-date newspaper. Since the News has come to Sierra Madre, we believe that we can say without being accused of overconceit, that it has played its part boosting the town, and arousing a community feeling and town pride. We intend to keep everlastingly at it, "booming Sierra Madre first, last and all the time," as we said in our first issue.

But, as we have said over and over again in these columns, we need the active co-operation of our subscribers. We cannot do all the boosting alone. We want to ask once more that some of you who are interested in the welfare of the paper, and want to see it go on with its work as it should, will take it upon yourselves to gather up the bits of news in your immediate neighborhood and send them to us. It will greatly aid us, and allow us to use the time which now goes in the scratching around to find out the items of your comings and goings, in bettering the paper. It will be but a small thing for some of the ladies to jot these items down for us each week. We will gladly furnish stationery and postage to any who will help us this way.

The newest in the country newspaper field is the Palms News, edited and published by S.

C. Perrine. It is but a few weeks old, but is doing its work in rousing that community to activity. It is a clean newsy sheet and starts out on the right road, with none of the out-of-date patent insides.

One Editor's Appeal

The Texmo Times prints this appeal which will strike a responsive chord in the editorial breast: "My friend, help the editor in his wild-eyed search for news. When your friends come to see you, if you are not ashamed of it, tell him; when your wife gives a tea party if you have recovered from the effects of the gossip, drop in with the news; when a baby arrives, fill your pockets with cigars and call; if you go to a party, steal some of the good things and leave 'em with the item in our sanctum; if your wife licks you, come in and let us see your scars and tender sympathy through the paper; if your mother-in-law has died, don't be bashful about it; give in all the commonplace news. In short, whatever makes you feel proud, sad, lonesome or glad, submit it to our twenty-four-karat wisdom and see out matted locks part and stand on end with gratitude, which will pour from every pore like moisture from the dew-besprinkled earth.

A Change in Banking

Several years ago, the banks of Los Angeles made an arrangement with various banks throughout Southern California, whereby the city banks cleared or paid all the items presented to the Los Angeles banks on the country banks, and charged them up to the country banks. The arrangement was one of great convenience to the country banks, without reciprocal advantage to the city banks, it is declared by the latter.

The Clearinghouse association has amended its rules, and agreed that after February 15, none of the Los Angeles banks will clear for any bank outside of Los Angeles city. This will do away with the old arrangement. Hereafter, each city bank will have to send daily to each country bank each item it receives on the country bank. In case of the failure of a country bank, the person depositing the country bank item with the city bank would be the loser. The country banks will be the gain-

I have about completed the work attendant upon the subdividing of my ranch and shall be very glad to have it inspected. It should appeal to those who desire a good, comfortable lot to build on or speculate in, where the soil is first class, water pressure good, restrictions fairly high, and in a locality where the improvements being made are of the better class. The lots are of an average size of 100 x 190, North and South frontage, building restrictions $2000.00, prices from $11.00 to $15.00 per foot, terms one-fourth cash, 6, 12 and 18 months, 5 per cent off for cash and rebate of 5 per cent for improvements completed within six months.
